Judge William H. Bright is the Administrative Judge for the Judicial District of Tolland, where he presides over criminal, civil and habeas corpus matters. He was appointed a Superior Court Judge by Governor M. Jodi Rell in January 2008. After unanimous confirmation from the General Assembly, he commenced his judicial career in March of 2008. Since then he has presided over civil, criminal, juvenile and habeas corpus cases in Hartford, Manchester and Rockville. He also sat on the Complex Litigation docket in Hartford for two years before beginning his current assignment in 2013. Judge Bright currently chairs the Judicial Branch's Pro Bono Committee. He is also a member of the Judicial Branch's Access to Justice Commission, the Rules Committee of the Superior Court, the Civil Commission, and the Civil Jury Instruction Committee. Judge Bright is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Connecticut Bar Foundation and a James W. Cooper Sustaining Life Fellow.

Judge Bright had a distinguished career as a trial lawyer before becoming a judge. He was the Managing Partner of McCarter & English's Hartford office and served as the Chair of the firm's Business Litigation group. He was named one of the Best Lawyers in the United States by Chambers USA and was named one of the top 50 lawyers in the state by Connecticut Magazine. He focused on complex commercial litigation matters, including business torts, fraud, intellectual property, franchise disputes and environmental law. He actively engaged in pro bono matters, particularly with Lawyers for Children, the Connecticut Civil Liberties Union, and the Innocence Project.

Judge Bright is a 1984 graduate of Dickinson College in Carlisle, PA and received his law degree, cum laude, from the University of Chicago Law School in 1987, where he was on the Law Review. He and his wife, Jennifer, have four sons and have lived in Columbia for over 25 years.

Peter Giuliani is a Partner at Smock Law Firm Consultants. His law firm management experience spans more than 47 years, both as a management consultant to law firms and other professional service firms (40 years), and as Executive Director of Cummings & Lockwood, a 180-lawyer law firm based in Stamford, Connecticut (7 years). His functional specialties include strategic planning; financial management and law firm economics, administrative and technology infrastructure planning; strategic mergers, acquisitions, and divestitures; and practice group management.

Examples of Peter's consulting experience are as follows:

- He has directed, conducted or participated in more than 500 consulting assignments for law firms or corporate law departments involving such matters as:
 - Development and implementation of strategic plans
 - Analysis and consultation on strategic mergers, acquisitions and divestitures
 - Review and restructuring of partner compensation and performance evaluation
 - Design and implementation of law firm organization, management, and practice group structures
 - Analysis and redesign of partnership retirement and buy-out plans, including valuation of partners' interests
 - Design and implementation of multi-tier partnership structures
- Peter has also served as expert witness in over twenty litigation matters involving valuation of partnership interests, determination of "reasonable compensation," measurement of lost profits, and other matters.
- He is the principal author of two extensive monographs on financial management of law firms published by the American Bar Association and is the recent author of the model partnership agreement for the State of New York Bar Association. In addition, he has published more than 25 articles on legal management topics.
- His most recent book is Passing the Torch without Getting Burned, a guide to law firm succession planning (ABA, 2013).

During the seven years in which he served as Cummings & Lockwood's first-time Executive Director, Peter led and/or supported processes that resulted in:

- A revised associate "track" and formal two-tier partnership program
- A new structure and process for setting Income and Equity Partner compensation
- The conversion of the firm to an LLC with a complete revision of the Firm's governance structure
- The reorganization of the firm into two operating divisions and market focused practice groups
- The acquisition and divestiture of practices and offices
- The formation of an ancillary business for purposes of licensing firm-proprietary software.

Prior to joining Cummings & Lockwood, Peter was a consultant with four major consulting firms. He spent five years as Vice President and CFO of Altman Weil and five years as a Partner in Pensa International, a firm that he helped found and that merged with Altman Weil in 1991. He was a Principal and Partner at Arthur Young, where he also served as National Director of Legal Consulting Services. He began his consulting career in 1968 at the New York Office of Price Waterhouse, focusing on law firm management issues.

Peter has a B. S. in Economics and Philosophy from The College of the Holy Cross and an MBA in Managerial Economics and Finance from Cornell University. He is also a Certified Public Accountant (inactive status) and a Certified Management Consultant. In 1998, Peter was elected a Fellow of the College of Law Practice Management in recognition of his career-long dedication and contribution to improving the management of law firms.

Partner Bio

Angelo A. Ziotas, a partner at Silver Golub & Teitell LLP, in Stamford, CT, is the current president of the Connecticut Trial Lawyers Association.

Mr. Ziotas has been specializing in the trial of civil matters in Connecticut, including medical malpractice cases, personal injury claims involving wrongful death or serious injury as well as business disputes, for more than 20 years.

In trials throughout Connecticut, he has attained more than 40 successful verdicts and has served as lead counsel for several clients who have received jury verdicts of more than $1 million, including medical malpractice actions, motor vehicle collisions, elevator accidents and an insurance “bad faith” suit. This includes one of the largest jury verdicts in Connecticut history, when a Stamford jury awarded his clients $38.5 million to compensate a young boy who suffered severe neurological injuries during childbirth. In addition to these verdicts, he has negotiated settlements of more than $40 million dollars for firm clients in the last two years, including $14.75 million for a victim of egregious medical malpractice, $10.4 million for a young child who suffered a severe brain injury during a near drowning at a Town-supervised summer camp and $8.5 million for a small Connecticut business to compensate for losses caused by a component part manufacturer.

Mr. Ziotas was board certified as civil trial attorney by the National Board of Trial Advocacy in 1998 and has been recognized by his peers for inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America in the specialties of Medical Malpractice Law and Personal Injury Litigation since 2006. He was named the Best Lawyers 2015 Stamford Product Liability Litigation – Plaintiffs “Lawyer of the Year.” He has also been included in Connecticut Super Lawyers every year since its inception in 2006, including its list of Top 50 Connecticut Super Lawyers and Top 100 New England Super Lawyers. A member of the American Board of Trial Advocates, he is one of only 35 lawyers in Connecticut to have been designated a “Local Litigation Star” by Benchmark Litigation.
